WIFE STEALS
SHOW, DEWEY
BEAMS PRAISEDEMOCRATS JOIN IN
SAPULPA, OKLA.

BY GARDNER BRIDGE
Sapulpa, Okla., Sept. 26 (AP)—Well, it was a great day in Sapulpa, and the Democrats and the Republicans became one big happy family—almost.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential candidate, became Mr. Frances Hutt for the day, husband of Sapulpa's most distinguished daughter, and Mrs. Frances Hutt Dewey stole the show.

Which was all fitting and proper since Sapulpa is Mrs. Dewey's home town, and all the governor could say to the shirt sleeved crowd assembled around the band stand in the court house square was:

"I'm the luckiest man in the world. Thank you for sending me to me."

Three Bands Out

It was a great day in Sapulpa and even the Democratic mayor, O. L. Humes, turned out to act as master of ceremonies for the Republican campaign crowd.

Flags and bunting and "welcome" signs were everywhere, and there were three high school bands all smart and snappy in scarlet and blue and yellow jackets. The Olmulee and Sand Springs high schools sent their tooters to help out the Sapulpanians, and mighty fine job they did with "The Star Spangled Banner," "God Bless America," and other numbers.

Mrs. Dewey, who struck out to seek fame and fortune in New York right after graduating from high school here in 1921, seemed a wee bit nervous as she stepped off the governor's campaign train to greet her fellow townsmen.

Riding behind her were her gray-haired parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orla Hutt, who brought her here from Sherman, Texas, when she was 11 and who still live here.

Across the brick station stretched a big banner reading simply "Welcome."

Riding through the center of town in an open car, along East Dewey avenue, Mrs. Dewey and the governor passed under other banners reading "Home of Mrs. Frances Hutt Dewey," and the crowds along the streets applauded. The avenue was named for Admiral Dewey, a distant relative of the governor.

Politics Set Aside

Mrs. Dewey, wearing a black crepe suit, French blue jersey blouse with a soft bow at the neck, a small black felt hat with a tiny French blue feather, black pumps, gloves and bags, sat smiling behind her distinguished husband. An enormous corsage of purple orchids was pinned on her left shoulder. What memories must have raced through her mind as she sat there before the thousands of plain folk who are her mother's and father's neighbors, only she could tell.

What undoubtedly thrilled and pleased her most was her husband's tribute to her, his expression of gratitude to the home town, her parents, teachers and neighbors for having brought her up and then given her to him.

And Governor Dewey was not a nominee for the presidency as

Superfortresses Bomb
Factories In Manchuria

BY JOHN GROVER

A B-29 Superfortress Base In West China, Sept. 26 (AP)—A heavy force of American Superfortresses bombed industrial installations at Anshan in Manchuria for the third time by daylight today.

The B-29 squadrons, second in size only to those which made a mass attack on Manchuria Sept. 8, took off early in the morning to "clean up anything overlooked in previous visits to the key city in Japan's Manchurian war production area."

(In Washington, a war department announcement of the raid stated that two other towns, believed to be Andan, just south of Anshan, and Dairin, a port city, also were attacked, but details were not yet available.)

(The Tokyo radio, in a broadcast heard by the Associated Press, said that Anshan and other localities were attacked by approximately 70 American planes and that a smaller number

WAR SITUATION
DARK IN CHINANipponese Continue To Advance On Key City
Of Kweilin

Chungking, Wednesday, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Japanese continued to advance today toward Kweilin from positions east of the Kwangsi province city, whose loss would be the greatest reverse for the Chinese since the fall of Hankow and Canton in October, 1938.

The high command acknowledged a 12-mile gain by a Japanese column cutting southward from Kwangyang, 50 miles east, northeast of Kweilin.

At the same time invaders slashing northwestward from Yungming, 75 miles east of Kweilin, in an apparent attempt to cut the Hunan-Kwangsi railway south of Kweilin were reported by the high command to have advanced 28 miles. Severe fighting was in progress in this area the communication said.

In Hunan province, the bulletin said, the embattled Chinese defenders of strategically valuable Poaching, 63 miles west of Hengyang, were successfully warding off enemy attacks from the east, north and south.

Osteopaths May Get
Status As Doctors

Grand Rapids, Sept. 26 (AP)—Proposed legislation which would permit osteopaths in Michigan to practice as doctors of medicine was reviewed Tuesday by the house of delegates of the State Medical society at the latter's 79th annual convention here.

M. C. Smith, secretary of the Nebraska Medical association, outlined methods by which his organization helped put through a law in Nebraska whereby those trained and educated in osteopathy now must pass regular state medical examinations in order to practice as doctors of medicine.

Resolutions concerning pending osteopathic legislation will be voted upon before the close of the convention.

NEW DEAL NO
AID TO LABOR,
KELLY STATESINDUSTRY HINDERED
AND DELAYED BY MANY AGENCIES

Kalamazoo, Sept. 26 (AP)—Governor Kelly asserted in a campaign speech here tonight that the new deal administration "hindered rather than helped industry and labor do its job of converting from peace to war," and is not entitled to be entrusted with reconstruction after the war.

The governor, still emphasizing national issues as he awaited the opening campaign blast of Edward J. Fry, his Democratic opponent, described his accusations as an "indictment" based on findings of a senate committee which was headed by U. S. Senator Henry S. Truman, now President Roosevelt's running mate.

"The present (national) administration can't claim any part of the credit" for the "masterful war production of American industry," the governor asserted in the prepared text of an address broadcast throughout the state.

"The truth is that the present administration hindered rather than helped industry and labor do its job of converting from peace to war, and our magnificent production record was achieved in spite of the administration rather than with its assistance," he said.

"I know that is a tough indictment. I say it regretfully rather than exultantly.

"You want to be sure this indictment is true? I have the evidence that I believe will bring this fact forcefully home to you."

Committee Quoted
He said the Truman committee, in an annual report for 1942-43, made this public statement:

"Three basic weaknesses in our war program have been responsible for nearly all of the failures and shortcomings of the committee has found in a score or more of investigations of specific phases of that program. These are:

"1—Inadequate over-all planning within government agencies at the beginning of various programs, and delay in determining basic policies necessary to carry out such programs effectively.

"2—Conflicting authority over, and responsibility for, various phases of the war program, resulting in delays and buck-passing.

"3—Hesitancy of government

BRITISH FORCES
CROSS RUBICONYank Fifth Army Chops
Up Gen. Kesselring's
Counterattacks

BY GEORGE BRUA
Rome, Sept. 26 (AP)—American Fifth army troops advancing toward Bologna, major enemy communications center in northern Italy, have smashed three heavy German counterattacks, and the Adriatic battlefield British Eighth army forces have crossed the tiny but famous Rubicon against strong enemy resistance, Allied headquarters announced today.

Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring, using seasoned troops, hurled three vicious counterattacks at the Yanks near Monte La Fina, 21 miles southeast of Bologna. Headquarters said the Germans suffered heavy casualties in their futile attempt to check the advance of the Americans.

Three miles southeast of Monte La Fina other Fifth army troops were reported battling the Germans in the streets of Moradaccio, 16 miles south of Imola on the lateral Bologna-Rimini highway.

Although it had been stated at headquarters that the Americans were as close as 15 miles to Bologna, no places were specifically named closer than 21 miles.

Corregidor Stamp
Coming Out Today

Washington, Sept. 26 (AP)—The Corregidor stamp to be issued tomorrow by the postoffice department, is based on a drawing by Lagon U. Reavis for the Associated Press and approved by the war department in May, 1942.

The stamp bears the artist's conception of the island. Postoffice officials seeking proper subject matter for the new stamp borrowed a print of the artist's drawing from the Washington Evening Star.

Mauled Nazis Make
Last Stand At Riga

BY W. W. HERCHER

London, Sept. 26 (AP)—Yielding more than 500 towns and villages to the Russians, the mauled divisions of the German northern army corps fell back on Riga tonight for what may be their last stand in the Baltic states.

A brief Soviet communique reported that Red army forces took more than 200 places in their drive to clear the scattered and disorganized enemy from the west coast of Estonia southwest of Tallinn and pressed on down within 45 miles northeast of Riga, taking 300 places in Latvia.

Riga, last Baltic capital in enemy hands and a highly valuable naval base for the newly unfettered Red Baltic fleet, already is closely threatened by the Russians six miles to the south, and only a narrow escape corridor leading westward along the sea remains to the Germans.

The Soviet communique also announced capture of Turka, in southern Poland 12 miles from the border of Czechoslovakia, and nine other communities in that mountainous frontier region.

The Russians were silent concerning all other fronts, but the German radio said Soviet pressure on the Hungarian border from Romania was increasing, with several attempts to cross into Hungary from the area north of Arad. The Ankara (Turkish) radio said the Russians had crossed the border northwest of Arad and were 15 miles inside Hungary.

The only news of the fighting at Warsaw came from the Polish underground forces of General Bor, which reported a sustained Soviet artillery barrage from the right bank of the Vistula, with Poles inside the city acting as spotters.

U. S. TRADE BAN
HITS ARGENTINAAmerican Ships Barred From Calling At
Ports Oct. 1

Washington, Sept. 26 (AP)—The United States tightened screws on Argentina today with two moves thinning trade between the two countries to a trickle.

The state department announced the first move—a ban preventing American ships from calling at Argentine ports after October 1.

At the same time, it was learned, the department instructed the foreign economic administration to restrict export licenses to Argentina to a minimum.

About a year ago, export licenses for Argentina were ordered held down, but the new confidential directive cuts exports which can go to Argentina to those necessary for public health and to maintain essential services.

Normally, Argentina buys chemicals, lumber and iron and steel from the United States in large quantities and has difficulty getting those commodities elsewhere nowadays.

The shipping ban means that no American vessels can engage in trade with Argentina, resulting in a huge slash in the amount of goods which can be carried.

A state department spokesman said the reason for the shipping ban was because routes must be responsive to war requirements.

GENERAL KILLED

St. Augustine, Fla., Sept. 26 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Edmund W. Searby was killed in France Sept. 14, the war department has informed his widow who resides here.

He was attached to the staff of the late Gen. Lesley J. McNair in Washington until last May, when he was ordered overseas.

Finally they were all in—all, that is, except one. Operations reported a Fortress missing. Returning pilots said it had lagged behind and lost altitude just after leaving the target. The last report said the Fortress couldn't stay in the air more than five minutes. Hours had passed since then. So it was gone.

Ten men were in that plane. The day's accomplishments had been great, but the thought of 10 lost friends cast a pall over people.

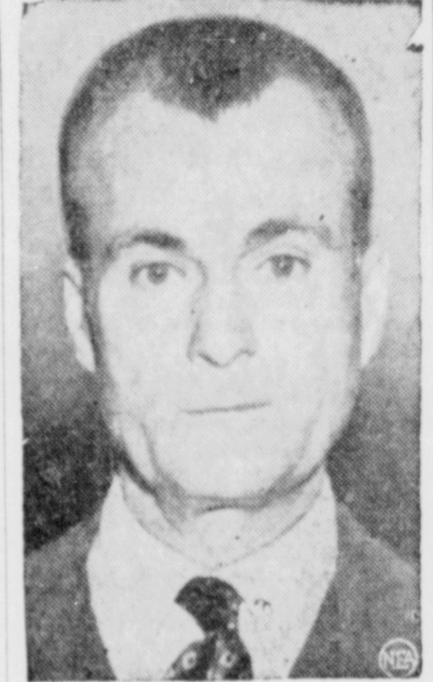

We had already seen death that afternoon. For one of the returning Fortresses had released a red flare over the field, and I had stood with others beneath the great plane as they handed its dead pilot, head downward, through the escape hatch onto a stretcher.

The faces of his crew were grave, and nobody talked very loud. One man clutched a leather bag with blood on it. The pilot's hung over the field, giving it softness.

TOKYO SHIPPING
CRIPPLED AGAINAllies Sink 4 Freighters
At Halmahera And
Borneo

Advanced Allied Headquarters, New Guinea, Wednesday, Sept. 27 (AP)—In continuing heavy blows at Japanese shipping on the south approaches to the Philippines, Allied fliers have sunk four freighters at Halmahera and Borneo.

Headquarters announced today that a 3,000-ton freighter was sunk Monday at Borneo, which recently has been brought within the regular raiding sphere of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's New Guinea-based planes.

Three small freighters were sunk off Halmahera, an area in which MacArthur's invasion forces now stand within 200 miles of the southern Philippines.

Today's communique listed a 65-ton bombing which neutralized Japanese airdromes on Ceram. A one-thousand-ton enemy freighter was damaged off Dutch Celebes.

Headquarters said that 868 more Japanese have been killed in the jungle war around Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea.

Free News Proposal
Approved By French

Paris, Sept. 26 (AP)—The provisional French government expressed itself today in full agreement with the American congressional resolution advocating free world interchange of news.

In the first official delineation of French policy since the adoption of the resolution in the U. S. Congress, Minister of Information Pierre Teitgen stated to the Associated Press today:

"The French government approves the resolution. The French government believes that the free diffusion of news is a condition of democracy's good functioning and of the establishment of peace."

"The French government thinks that free dissemination of information throughout the whole world necessitates not only freedom of news agencies but also, for both national and foreign agencies, free access to means of communication without differential rates."

Prayer And Fasting
Begun By Jews For
Yom Kippur Holiday

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Sundown tonight marked the opening of a 24-hour period of prayer and fasting by Jews in observance of Yom Kippur, the day of atonement, most solemn day in the Hebrew calendar.

As services opened with the traditional Kol Nidre ceremony, the Jewish community was assured support of the Christian Council of Palestine in an effort to establish and maintain Palestine as a national homeland for the Jewish people.

The holiday, which ends at sundown tomorrow, concludes the penitential period begun with Rosh Hashanah, the new year, ten days ago.

HUNGARY SEEKS PEACE

London, Wednesday, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Paris radio, quoting Istanbul diplomatic circles, said it was believed today it was "only a question of hours" before Hungary appeals to the Allies through Turkey for an armistice. The broadcast was heard by the Associated Press.

There still was no word early today, however, of the fate of the British airborne "Red Devil" division which has clung stubbornly to a little foothold on the north bank of the Neder Rhine for nine days and nights.

A German broadcast, unconfirmed by Allied sources, asserted that the vaillant little band of British skyroopers, finally had been liquidated with the last 600 surrendering yesterday morning.

The combination of powerful ground blows by British armor and the reinforcements and supplies landed from transports and gliders eased the critical situation along the narrow corridor stretching up into Holland and supreme headquarters announced that the highway between Veghel and Nijmegen now was cleared of the Germans although still under artillery fire.

Struggle Nears Climax
Cleaning up the west flank of the tenuous communications link with the northern spearhead of Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's Second army, British armor knocked the Nazis out of Oss, ten miles west of Grave, and from Heesch, eight miles north of Veghel. These successes provided an alternate supply route to Nijmegen by way of Grave.

Still farther south, Belgian forces of the Second army were driving toward the German frontier east of Maastricht.

The Germans were resisting strongly and in some sectors the opposition seemed to be gaining in strength as the critical battle flamed toward a climax.

Big American freighters of the air, C-47 transports towing gliders loaded with men, weapons, jeeps and supplies, landed at a forward airfield yesterday giving succor to the harassed Allied forces.

Associated Press Correspondent A. I. Goldberg, who made the flight in the sky-train, said these first actual landings of supply planes were made in a crassly passionate sight of the smoke of battle.

GERMANS TRY

FOR WINTER

BY HOWARD COWAN
Spreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, Wednesday, Sept. 27 (AP)—The British Second army sent another column eastward Germany yesterday, pulling up on the Meuse river at Boxmeer, 13 miles south of Nijmegen and only three miles from the Dutch-German border.

This new drive came as American transports landed close behind the front in Holland with men, weapons and supplies for the beleaguered airborne troops in the Nijmegen-Arnhem sector and bolstered the Allied forces for the increasingly vital struggle at the northern gateway to the Rhine.

ITALY PREPARED FOR HOME RULE

Former Enemy Country Gets New Status For Reconstruction

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Sept. 26 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill announced tonight a greater measure of home rule for Italy and projected a program of industrial reconstruction to help that one-time enemy nation join "the struggle to defeat Germany and Japan."

How this program is to be financed was not disclosed and speculation immediately arose that since its announced purpose is the prosecution of the war, United States lend-lease assistance and British mutual aid might be extended to Italy.

The new policy was decided by Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill at Hyde Park, Sept. 18 and 19, where they met secretly following their conference at Quebec.

The effects of the policy seemed certain to be far-reaching. The designation of Italy as an "enemy" nation barred from normal commercial relations with this country and Britain is to be removed, the president and prime minister said, and direct political relationships are to be entered into between Rome and Washington and London.

The purposes of placing this "increasing measure of control" in the hands of the Italian government were described as being to help restore order in riotous, hungry Italy; to encourage the political rebirth of the Italian people; and enable the Italians to bring their full resources to bear in the fight on Germany and Japan.

armored and infantry attacks had severed the thin Allied supply line between Eindhoven and Nijmegen, the vital artery along which reinforcements were being shoved toward Arnhem. As many times British tanks and self-propelled guns had smashed the Nazis back and cleared the highway.

In their determined effort to halt this Allied thrust toward Germany the Nazis struck with their hoarded reserve of fighter planes. A single flight of 100 Focke-Wulf fighters attacked British forces near Nijmegen, and another 75 swept down on the besieged airborne Tommies at Arnhem. Sixteen of the attacking Nazis at Nijmegen were shot down by RAF Spitfires and Typhoons.

The last official announcement from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters before the news censorship was imposed said that amphibious trucks and assault boats of the British Second Army were ferrying a small quantity of reinforcements and supplies across the quarter-mile wide Rhine to the bitterly-resisting force at Arnhem.

American doughboys of the First, Third and Seventh armies who had been shivering in their light uniforms were being issued winter clothing—long underwear, sleeping bags and overcoats. Sleeping bags were reported on the way to cut the chill of frosty nights and mornings. The great offensive to crush Hitler was going into the winter.

Food Dump Captured

A severe blow was struck at the Germans' service of supply in Holland when a food dump containing 10,000,000 rations, including 8,000 tons of meat, was captured by American and British troops.

The huge dump was believed to have been intended to supply all Nazi troops in the Netherlands for a long period.

It was estimated that total German casualties since June 6 in troops killed, captured, badly wounded or hopelessly cut off now amounted to nearly 1,000,000—well over twice the enemy force now believed to be lined up along Germany's western frontier.

The figure included at least 100,000 killed, well over 200,000 badly wounded, more than 500,000 captured and the remainder sealed off in holdout ports along the channel coast and on the channel islands. The Canadian assault on Calais continued with heavy aerial assistance, and the Nazi garrison was reported to have been driven from high ground dominating the port.

WIFE STEALS SHOW, DEWEY BEAMS PRAISE

BY GARDNER BRIDGE

En Route With Dewey To Albany, Sept. 26 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey sped homeward on the last lap of his transcontinental campaign tour tonight, swamped, as his secretary said, by messages applauding his Oklahoma city rebuttal to President Roosevelt's "fraud" and "falsehood" speech.

Hailed at Tulsa, Okla., by what he later described as "the biggest station crowd I have seen in five years of campaigning," the Republican presidential nominee re-emphasized that his first act in the White House, if elected, will be to "get rid of the political satellites who have fastened themselves to your pocketbook and mine for 12 years."

He mentioned in this connection, as he has before, Interior Secretary Harold I. Ickes and Labor Secretary Frances Perkins. He also scored what he called "that elegant collection of loafers" which he said was dependent on continuance of the new deal administration.

Declaring he never would use his office to "divide one part of the American people from another," he said:

"Your next president will never seek to undermine unity in this country for political purposes in war or in peacetime."

Dewey's train stopped in Tulsa for a few hours after a civic reception to Mrs. Dewey in her parents' home at nearby Sapulpa.

The governor said he was "deeply gratified" by the tribute accorded his wife in her home town, where approximately 15,000 persons turned out to greet her. Although the ceremony was arranged entirely in her honor, she made no speech.

RIISING STOCKS TURN HESITANT

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Assorted stock market favorites maintained moderately rising tendencies in today's market but the main body of leaders followed Monday's bulging commodities in a reversal of the upswing.

Prices turned hesitant after a fairly lively start and reactions of fractions to a point were a shade in the majority at the close.

The calculated Pines 60-stock average was off 2 of a point at 84.3. Of 801 issues appearing, 259 were down, 275 up and 237 unchanged. Transfers of 461,952 shares compared with 792,580 yesterday.

On the outside were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Santa Fe, Pullman, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, American Can, American Smelting, General Electric, Deere, Standard Oil (N. J.) and Allied Chemical.

Haegg Is Expected In U. S. Soon; Wants Series With Dadds

Stockholm, Sept. 26 (AP)—Gunner Haegg, Sweden's most noted runner, wants to meet Gil Dadds, Boston divinity student, in a series of indoor races in the United States early this winter.

Haegg, Arne Andersson and hurdler Haakon Lidman earlier today accepted invitations from the U. S. Treasury department to compete in the interest of war bond selling programs.

"I haven't heard officially that the trip to America has been definitely arranged," Haegg said today in the Malmoe haberdashery where he is employed. "If it is, I must be back in Sweden by Christmas."

"I hope the reports we have that Dadds has given up running are untrue. He is a fine runner and could give me a good fight. I never have raced indoors, but I am not afraid of the boards. The think I dislike about indoor races most is that the distances are too short," added the runner who swept eight outdoor races in his visit to the United States in 1943.

The trio would appear in the United States late next month and throughout November according to present plans. Because the athletes desire at least two weeks of conditioning in the U. S., they are expected to leave Sweden shortly.

Andersson on July 17 ran the world's fastest mile, being clocked in 4:01.6, three seconds faster than Haegg's listed record for the distance and almost five seconds faster than Dadds' 4:06.4 indoor mark.

Church Events

Christian Science Churches

"Unreality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 1.

The Golden Text (II Cor. 4:18) is: "The things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 34:19): "Many are the afflictions of the righteous but the Lord delivereth him out of them all."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (218), "When we wake to the truth of being, all disease, pain, weakness, weariness, sorrow, sin, death, will be unknown, and the mortal dream will forever cease."

Sunday School Teachers

The Sunday School teachers of the Central Methodist church will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock. All officers of the school are urged to be present.

Demmon Is Making Tour Of National Forests In State

E. L. Demmon, new director of the Lake States Experiment Station, is making a tour of the Marquette and Hiawatha national forests of the Upper Peninsula this week, accompanied by Louis Hermet of the Forest Service.

Demmon and Hermet inspected forestry facilities and projects at Raco, Manistique and Munising yesterday, and will go to the Dukes experiment station in Marquette county today. He came to the Upper Peninsula from Lower Michigan, where he visited national forests in that region.

Demmon was recently appointed head of the experiment station at St. Paul, succeeding the veteran Raphael Zon, who retired.

Escanaba Docks Expected To Ship 5,838,000 Tons

The Chicago and North Western railway ore docks at Escanaba will handle about 5,838,000 tons this year, according to current estimates. F. M. Fernstrom, dock agent, said yesterday.

Shipments of iron ore from Escanaba are ranging from 700,000 to 800,000 tons monthly. To date, about 4,400,000 tons have been shipped, as compared with 4,850,000 tons at this time last year.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 26 (AP)—All grain futures settled higher on the Chicago Board of Trade today, reflecting what some analysts described as a natural leveling off process following Monday's bullish upsurge based on a new government wheat price support program.

At the close wheat was 3-4 to 3-5 1/2 lower; corn was 2-5 1/2 to 3-3 1/2 lower; December 11 1/2; oats were 2-5 1/2 to 3-4 lower; December 6-8 to 6-9 1/2; soy beans 11-13 to 11-14; soy meal 12-13 to 12-14; soy oil 14-15 to 14-16; hogs 10-11 to 10-12; cattle 10-11 to 10-12; sheep 10-11 to 10-12.

Corn all operators reacted strongly to bookings of more than 1,000,000 bushels of cash corn here during the past 24 hours.

Wheat, however, firm but the slight gains were wiped out and at one time the July contract was as much as 3-3 1/2 below yesterday's close.

Oats were unsettled throughout the session and at the low point were 3-4 cents below the previous close. Trade in soy was light.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Central Methodist church will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. All young people of the church and their friends are invited to attend. Donald Swellander will preside.

Parson Not in Pink

Boston, Sept. 26 (AP)—Gil Dadds, America's flying parson tonight declared that while he is eager to race Gunner Haegg and Arne Andersson of Sweden, he doubts that he will reach peak mile-running condition until the indoor season starts in February.

Dadds, who returned from a nation-wide visit of Army camps in a preaching tour and registered today for his last semester at Gordon Seminary, has not been running this summer.

It was while he was registering for classes that he learned Haegg and Andersson, Sweden's human comets, had accepted an invitation of the United States treasury department to come to America for a series of races in the interest of bond selling programs.

GREENS PICKING IS BIG BUSINESS

Buyers Handle Over 300 Tons Of Ground Pine Yearly

"Wanted to buy—Ground pine (princess pine). Highest cash prices in history." Highest cash prices in history.

The appearance of this advertisement in the classified section of your local newspaper signals the beginning of fall activity in an Upper Peninsula industry that annually places $50,000 to $65,000 into the hands of a comparatively small group of interested individuals.

Twice a year, in the spring and in the autumn, the relatively few people who have the time and the ambition to wander far and wide through the cut over areas of our forests in search of this valuable product of nature.

Gathering ground pine is a tedious and back breaking occupation; no labor saving machinery has been developed to speed up production, but it is a job which, due to labor conditions brought on by the war, has been paying handsome dividends.

At the current price of eight cents per pound, baled and delivered to the nearest buying station, a few of the more rugged individuals have been making a business of gathering pine. Through exploration and experience they have learned where to look for the commodity. It is no trick at all, it is reported, for these pickers to consistently earn $10 or more in a day.

Profitable Side Line
Probably the largest portion of the harvest, however, is gathered by the casual picker, the man or woman who goes out now and then when circumstances are favorable, and picks up a little "side money."

There are at least four big buyers, or distributors, of ground pine in this section of the Upper Peninsula. Their job is to pick up the baled pine from their several sub stations and to deliver it to the processing plants in Lower Michigan, Illinois and Indiana.

Equipped with large semi-trailers with a load capacity of 10 tons, the buyers make frequent deliveries during the picking season. At the processing plants the greens go through a series of chemical ordeals. First they are bleached, treated to a preserving solution and then dyed a nice bright nearly unnatural green. Eventually they appear in public in store window decorations, in funeral wreaths and in floral shops where they provide green backgrounds for numerous types of floral displays.

Handles 80 Tons
One buyer with headquarters near Escanaba bought and shipped approximately 50 tons of greens during the spring season. During the current fall season he expects to handle about 30 tons. Picking will continue as long as the pickers can stand the chilly air and until the greens are lost to sight under frost killed ferns and leaves.

Assuming that each of the four buyers handles a like quantity of greens, the conclusion is reached by simple arithmetic that at least 640,000 pounds of the stuff is hauled out of our north woods every year. Carrying our computations a bit further we find that at eight cents a pound, the pickers gathered up for themselves a neat little bundle amounting to $51,200. That the distributor sold the merchandise for a higher price is obvious, so the original estimate of the annual income of this industry appears justified.

If you still are reading you might also be interested to know that "depletion of our natural resources" is not probable. Greens picking has been going on in our

Cox'n On Famed Nevada Recounts Experiences

Dale H. Boes, cox'n aboard the U. S. S. Nevada, has arrived home to spend a 20 day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Boes, Wells, Dale, who entered the navy in Sept. 1942, has been in active service since Dec. 1942.

The U. S. Navy, on which Boes has seen all his sea duty, was part of the fleet which poured tons of steel on to the islands of Attu and Kiska and softened them up for the subsequent invasion which wrested these strongholds from the Japs.

Following that action the ship moved into the Atlantic ocean and was on the ground floor in the naval barrage which preceded the D-Day invasion. The ship which the Japs sank in Pearl Harbor in Dec. 1941 has had its revenge is the opinion of Cox'n Boes.

In the three days preceding the invasion, the Nevada hurled 1,454,722 pounds of steel and TNT into the German defenses, gun emplacements and German troop and tank concentrations opposing the American landings in the Bay of Seine area.

Boes' ship was the first of the allied armada to be fired upon as they steamed into Hitler's front yard. The enemy shoreline was bristling with defense armor consisting of between 25 and 30 land batteries, consisting of as many as 125 guns ranging in size up to eight inches. Behind the batteries were two concentrations of tanks and field artillery, plus several troop concentrations, convoys of trucks and other motorized transport and numerous machine gun nests and pill boxes.

Is Sharpshooting Crew
As a member of one of the Nevada's gun crews, Boes was quite satisfied with the results of their marksmanship. In 20 minutes the ship had arched shells into a concentration of 90 tanks and 20 lorries in the woods with such effectiveness that none escaped, it was reported.

Battleships get the range of their targets by radio contact with airplanes or in some cases from paratroopers behind the enemy lines. With paratroopers calling the shots, the Nevada on at least two occasions did some masterly shooting, Boes declared.

woods for years. It is reported, and those in the know are reaping a harvest year after year in the same old stands.

As Expected

ATTY. GENERAL FRANCIS BIDDLE has now decreed that both the CIO political action committee and the National Citizens PAC are clean and pure. There was a time in the not too far distant past when the present attorney general of the United States held and expressed other views as to the parent organization, now with energy and inexhaustible funds backing President Roosevelt for election to the fourth term. But the political situation has changed since those earlier and less hectic days and no other decision than that he has now made was expected and it will be accepted by unbiased citizens as just another rubber stamp approval, rendered by another man named Friday, to the vicious machine that has been set up to deliver votes at the November election.

Of course the attorney general's opinion, now delivered, deals only with the legality of campaign contributions made by the two organizations, in behalf of Mr. Roosevelt's re-election, up to this time, and, as was expected, he holds that no law has been violated.

And, of course, the attorney general's opinion, is not concerned with the personalities directing the major activities of President Roosevelt's present campaign. It does not deal with the brazen Communists who have bought their way into the New Deal political machine and will, naturally, win high places in the government of this nation, if they are successful in "delivering" the November election.

Atty. General Biddle's decision in this matter is not disappointing. It was fully expected.

Into the Scrap Heap

THE Office of Defense Transportation has sounded another warning to the owners of private passenger cars to take every measure to conserve the life of their vehicles.

ODT's warning is prompted by the alarming rate at which automobiles are now going into the scrap heap. No new cars have been produced for more than two years, and the supply of used units in the hands of dealers has dwindled.

It is pointed out that private automobiles perform three-fourths of the essential local wartime transportation service. Without them, bus and street car lines in many cities would be deluged with patrons in numbers they could not possibly handle. Existing mass transportation facilities, incidentally, can now handle only 25 per cent of the essential load. Most of the bus, street car and rapid transit services are limited even in urban areas, while in rural areas portions of the population are wholly dependent upon automobile transportation.

ODT points out that the national total of passenger cars will have declined from about 28,150,000 on Jan. 1, 1942, to 24,400,000 on Jan. 1, 1945. At present the estimated average age of all cars surviving is about seven years. The figures indicate that from now on the rate of obsolescence will increase.

The situation calls for greater observance of automobile conservation rules. There is still a need for car sharing, driving at reasonable speeds, proper lubrication and maintenance.

Bingo Licensed

THE city of Cleveland has legalized bingo and expects to derive about $40,000 revenue annually in license fees from the gambling craze that has become widespread in this country.

Cleveland's city fathers adopted an ordinance recently, which regulates bingo and other games of chance and provides a scale of license fees. The city will not issue a license to conduct games of chance unless the profits go to charity—benevolent, philanthropic, religious or fraternal purposes. Each licensee is required to make a monthly report to the city of amounts paid in prizes and expenses incurred. Fees for each day of operating a bingo game are $2 for less than 2,500 square feet of floor space, $5 for 2,500 to 5,000 square feet and $10 for 5,000 or more square feet of floor space.

In some cities, efforts have been made to stamp out bingo, but with little success. Cleveland takes a common-sense, practical view of the problem by making the bingo game pay something into its coffers.

Urges Long Armistice

WRITING in the Magazine Digest, Max Werner, military writer and former instructor of political economy at Russia's Kharkov university, advocates a long armistice before final peace is made with Germany.

During the occupation of Germany by the Allies, efforts should be destroying the last remnants of Nazism and re-educating the German people for the establishment of democracy, Werner contends. Occupation cannot be politically neutral as it was in the last war.

Werner believes it is still possible to democratize Germany, for he points out that the country had a democratic majority as late as November, 1932. He is opposed to the partitioning of Germany for he contends such a plan would bring chaos instead of peace.

There are many plans being offered for dealing with Germany after the war. Chief objective is to devise a policy that will not give an excuse for some other Hitler to rise and lead the people into another world war. It will take a lot of re-education to root Nazi political dogma out of the minds of Germany's young people, but that is what must be done to insure peace in the future.

Fascism in Reverse

NONE can have much compassion for any Frenchman who collaborated wholeheartedly with the Nazis such as Pierre Laval and other opportunists did while France was cracking in the face of the Hitler blitzkrieg.

But the manner in which French patriots are wreaking vengeance on alleged pro-Fascists is cause for concern. Particularly disturbing was the picture of a teen-age boy being executed for being too friendly with Nazi occupation forces. A youth at this age, befuddled by the turn of events and doubtless frightened by the threats of an enemy, could do many things that he would not think of under normal conditions. No doubt, there were many instances where Frenchmen did the victorious Germans' bidding because they feared for their lives if they refused.

French patriots have killed fellow countrymen without the formality of a trial by jury. This is a form of mob justice that cannot be associated with true democracy. If it is allowed to run riot it will simply breed a new form of fascism, as despicable as the original variety.

HIGHER FREIGHT RATES

(Christian Science Monitor)
Faced by a rapidly diminishing net railway operating income, as taxes and wages cut more deeply into revenues, American railroads are now conferring as to the propriety of asking for a 15 per cent increase in freight rates, effective January 1. While some lines are hesitant about this, on the grounds that their net still is far above that of the prewar years, the consensus seems to be that the rising costs should be compensated for in some measure, in order that an appreciable net may still be maintained, out of which to replace equipment and to extinguish debts.

Prosperity such as the rails have enjoyed for two years is not begrudged the carriers, for the public feels they have done a wonderful war job. But this friendliness has not led to heavy investment or solved the railways' financial problems.

Some rail managers deem the freight rate rise as inevitable inasmuch as there is small likelihood that wages will come down soon or that taxes will be reduced appreciably in the next few years. Also, many of them hope to lower their passenger fares immediately after the war, for which an upturn in freight rates would compensate. There is, of course, the prospect of increased postwar truck competition and some operating officials may think twice about boosting rates on that account.

EARLY AUTUMN

(Detroit Free Press)
The harvest moon is in the making. Fields of corn are in the shock. Here and there fall plowing is in progress. Gold-red peaches, apples, melons and roasting ears fill the markets and wayside stands.

Banks of sumach blaze flame-colored in the fields, and the white berries of their treacherous, poisonous swamp cousins change slowly into drooping clusters of tinsel-like silver. The tamarack is fading from green to yellow. The swamp grasses and flowers show pale gold and pink, and wild asters paint the roadsides purple and blue and white against backgrounds of goldenrod.

Along the edges of the woodlots a few maples are showing color and soon the oaks will be rich brown and magenta.

Overhead migrant birds fly restlessly across uncertain skies, armadas training for a long, arduous invasion of new lands. The autumnal equinox is already upon us. The sun is crossing its celestial Rubicon. Change is everywhere.

It isn't the shortness of skirts that worries dad, but the length of time they're worn.

The Round Table

BY RAYMOND MOLEY

San Francisco—This appraisal is based on a survey of opinion about the current Presidential campaign which has carried me across the continent and which, at two places, Portland and here in San Francisco, has made contact with the Dewey campaign train.

I have talked with local political observers and with veteran reporters on the Dewey train. I add my own opinion, based on comparisons with what other candidates in other years have done.

It is clear that Mr. Dewey has done an extraordinary job in his conferences with local leaders of labor, agriculture and business and in press conferences. He has presented the picture of a candidate who wants to learn what he can of the opinions, problems and condition of every element in the life of the states through which he has journeyed. He is attentive, fair and acute in the endless process of question and answer which such conferences involve. His comments have been informed, pointed and effective.

—DEWEY WELL RECEIVED—
It is evident that he has an admirable capacity for organization. In view of the unusual conditions of this trip, in which people are less concerned with politics than with war, Mr. Dewey's receptions in the cities he has visited have been very favorable.

Here in San Francisco the crowds which greeted him were as large and as enthusiastic as those which greeted Mr. Roosevelt in 1932. His audiences in Portland and in San Francisco were big and responsive. There has been nothing in the outward expressions of public opinion to justify any charges of apathy, either about politics in general or the Dewey candidacy in particular. There is every evidence that the outcome of this campaign could be favorable to the Republican candidate.

Mr. Dewey's speech in this city was the fifth major effort of his current trip. I find myself in agreement with the wisest reporters on his train in the opinion that he has made two good speeches, two ineffective ones and one that was only fair. The good ones are at Louisville and Seattle; the unsatisfactory ones, at Philadelphia and Portland; the fair one, at San Francisco. This judgment may be contested by many, but it represents the candid opinion of people whose experience entitles them to respect.

—MAKES VIEWS CLEAR—

Mr. Dewey has succeeded in making his views on labor and on foreign affairs clear and in vivid contrast to the record of his opponent. His views on employment, economic freedom and the administrative record of the President have not yet revealed any improvement on the case made four years ago by Mr. Willkie. Perhaps it is too early to judge Dewey's views. He still has a great many speeches to make and may be holding his fire until his opponent has started his own campaign. But this is the record as I see it, six weeks before election.

He has stated his preference for an economic life more free of restrictions than that which the New Deal has provided. But he has not sufficiently dramatized the conditions that make such a free life attractive to the average American. Nor has he clearly differentiated the way of life which he foresees from that which has been created under the three terms of Mr. Roosevelt. Somehow, the case against the New Deal has not yet been made by the Republican candidate. The case can be made, and it may well be that Mr. Dewey will make it. But this interim report must record the fact that it has not yet been made.

Speeches, however, will not decide this election. It will be decided by many factors which cannot be appraised at this time, among them being the desire of the voters for a change, their resentment against the Administration's failure to measure up to its promises and their lack of confidence in a regime that has been in power a long time. If, as many suggest, there is an under-current of opposition to Mr. Roosevelt on such grounds as these, it will not matter much what anyone says.

Thumbail Lesson in German.
In many German names the digraphs "ie" and "ei" occur. They are not pronounced alike. The digraph "ie" always has the sound of "ee" as in "bee"; as: Trier (tree); Wiesbaden (VESS-bah-den); Siegfried (ZEE(CH)-freet).

The digraph "ei" always has the sound of "y" as in "hy, my"; thus: Heidelberg (HY - del - bair(ch)); Freiburg (FRY-boor(ch)); Leipzig (LYP-z(ch)).

Also, the digraph "ai" has the "eye" sound, as: Mainz (mynts); Kaiserstuhl (KY-zer-shtool).

The sequence "au" is like the diphthong "ow" in "how, now," as: Augsburg (OWKS-boor(ch)); Sangerhausen (ZAHNG-er-HOW-z'n).

Close Enough to Cast a Shadow

Good Morning! INTO THE PAST

By The Bugler

AT IT AGAIN—The soft-headed sob sisters are at it again, even as they were when the last war against Germany drew to a close. We hear and read from correspondents, commentators, analysts or what have you that the "good German" people are just waiting an opportunity to throw out that awful man Hitler.

Just how many good Germans there are in Germany is problematical. But from the tone of our war correspondents writing from the areas occupied by our troops they are all basically good sound middle-class burghers who are awakening from a bad dream induced by the monster hypnotist. And the tone of their messages leads you to believe that they are so, so happy about it all—but apathetic, too. In other words they are relieved, stunned, happy.

The American at home should view all this with more than a little skepticism. It smacks too much of a good thing to be true.

HERE'S A SAMPLE — One story, written by an American correspondent "With American Troops in Germany," tells how the Hitler youth movement is crumbling under the impact of Allied forces. These boys and girls, 13 to 16 years of age, who used to squal to the Gestapo when Grandma sighed for the good old days with the Kaiser, and have their parents put away in concentration camps because they tried to teach little Fritz to stop assaulting her with a cleaver, now "want to be good."

The correspondent even quotes one of these little monsters: "I was a member of the Hitler youth movement, but now I am glad I can be a Boy Scout again."

IT'S AN INSULT—This statement, truthfully reported, is an insult to our intelligence and a greater insult to the Boy Scouts. We doubt the authenticity of the story. First, a teen-ager would scarcely remember what the Scout movement was—since it has been banned in Germany for many years. Besides, a boy cannot become even a Cub Scout until he is 9 years of age—and it has been at least a decade since the Boy Scouts ceased to exist in Germany. That would make the age of this quoted "youngster" not less than 19—and we know very well that 19-year-olds in Germany are in the Nazi army fighting tooth and nail for Hitler.

And the youth of 19 in Germany is more interested in a ringside seat at the torture chamber than he is in being "a Boy Scout again."

THOSE PICTURES — After months and years of pictures which show in mounting horror the great inhumanity of the Nazis in their treatment of the peoples of other nations they conquered, we are beginning to get a change of pictorial diet.

The other day newspapers of the nation printed a picture showing a family of Germans sitting stolidly around what looked like a picnic table, gobbling rations the American soldiers are reported to have given them. This was designed to show that the "good German" is underfed and hungry, and is pleased to break bread with his conquerors.

Catch in the picture is that the Germans look as glum as a Nazi murder agent in a court of justice, and sit as reluctantly as a gangster invited to have the chair of honor in the death house.

If they are pleased to eat the food of American soldiers they don't show it for the camera.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON
(Lt. Col. Robert S. Allen now on active service with the Army)

Washington—This columnist recently quoted from a 1939 speech of Dewey's presumed Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, to the effect that he had defended and apologized for the dictators just a few days after Hitler had taken all Czechoslovakia and at a time when European newsmen were saying war was inevitable.

This drew sparks from GOP Chairman Brownell and others, who claimed that the Dulles quotations were misleading and did not really represent his views.

Since then, a deluge of letters have poured in, some defending, some condemning, but nearly all wanting more information about Mr. Dulles, with the result that this columnist has spent recent weeks in an exhaustive and, he hopes, objective research into the life and background of John Foster Dulles.

Some editors may not be enthusiastic about printing the result. But since winning the peace after this war is the most important object of the war, it is not a bad idea to scrutinize thoroughly any man who is asked to cooperate with Secretary Hull for future peace as the representative of several million Republicans, and who will may be the next Secretary of State.

Certainly few men in America are better qualified, as far as family background is concerned, to be Secretary of State. John Dulles' uncle was the late Robert Lansing, Secretary of State under Wilson, a Democrat. His grandfather was John W. Foster, Secretary of State under Benjamin Harrison, a Republican.

John W. Foster was a truly great statesman. He handled many delicate diplomatic negotiations both before and after leaving the Harrison Cabinet—helped settle the war between Japan and China, straightened out the Alaskan boundary, arbitrated problems with Russia in the Bering Sea.

Originally, he was an Indiana politician, who served as postmaster of his community, was Republican State chairman and, somewhat like Cordell Hull, came up the political ladder the hard way.

His grandson, John Dulles, after studying at Princeton and in Paris, jumped immediately into the most prosperous law firm in Wall Street, Sullivan and Cromwell. He has been there ever since—and is now its most important and prominent partner.

—DULLES' INTERNATIONAL CONNECTIONS—

Almost any lawyer, especially one connected with so large a firm, has to take all kinds of cases, representing all views and walks of life. However, aside from the big utilities, which will be discussed later, many international cases, some connected with the dictator countries, seemed to gravitate toward John Dulles.

Thus the record shows him as arguing personally for Dictator Franco of Spain; having legal relations with Count Rena de Chambrun, son-in-law of Laval, now arrested; discussing plans whereby Swedish SKF could protect their U. S. plant from seizure as alien property; and representing such clients as the J. Henry Schroeder banking firm, E. K. Halbach, chief owner of General Dystuff, and N. V. Phillips Gloelampfabrieken of Eindhoven, Holland.

Some of these cases originated from Dulles' early work in Europe when he was counsel to the American Peace Commission under his uncle, Secretary of State Lansing.

This was how he happened to represent the Merton family of Germany, whose property had been seized by the Alien Property Custodian in the last war. This was the famous case involving Jess Smith and Harry Daugherty which sent Thomas W. Miller, Alien Property Custodian under President Harding, to jail when Richard Merton paid $441,000 to John T. King, GOP national committeeman from Connecticut.

Dulles was in no way involved in this phase of the case—in fact, knew nothing about the bribe and had stepped out before it was arranged. He had been retained by Richard Merton, who had represented Germany at the Paris peace conference, to try to get his German property returned. Dulles came to Washington, discussed the matter with the Justice Department, found the job impossible, and got out of the case. Merton then hired Republican committeeman King.

—THE DR. WESTRICK CASE—

It was also because of previous legal connections in Germany that Dulles conducted the activity of the famous Dr. Gerhard Westrick, whom Hitler had sent to New York in 1940, after the war started, to try to arrange deals with Wall Street. One of those willing to do business with him, Capt. Torkild Rieber, was forced to resign as head of the Texas Company because of the public clamor.

Dulles, however, explaining that Westrick had represented Sullivan and Cromwell in Germany some years before, contended: "I don't believe he has done anything wrong. I knew him in the old days and I had a high regard for his integrity."

It was also through his law firm that Dulles got mixed up indirectly with the America First Committee. A client asked for advice on the incorporation of the New York branch of America First, and Dulles now explains that a member of the firm drew up the incorporation papers.

Mae Holzgrebe,
Sgt. Anderson
Wed In Evanston

White gladioli and poms decorated the Covenant Methodist chapel at Evanston, Ill., for the wedding on Saturday, Sept. 16, of Miss Mae Holzgrebe, of 7756 Haskins, Chicago, daughter of Mrs. Nan Holzgrebe, of 912 South 16th street, and Sgt. C. J. Anderson, of 2503 Ashland, Evanston, son of Andrew Anderson of Norway, Mich.

The double ring service was solemnized at 8 o'clock in the evening by Rev. Newham. "I Love You Truly" was the solo of the ceremony and the traditional processional and recessional were used.

Miss Lorraine Miller, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Evelyn Severin, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Margie Swanson, a niece of the bridegroom, were flower girls. Sgt. Anderson was attended by Pfc. Bob Scouten, and ushers were Frank Larson and Don Johnson.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a bodice of chantilly lace and a full skirt of mousseline de soie. She carried white carnations and roses. The attendants wore like models of chiffon in shades of blue, pale yellow and aqua. The maid of honor, whose gown was blue, carried deep magenta gladioli and the bridesmaids' bouquets were of peach and yellow gladioli. The flower girls' full length frocks were of yellow tulle and she carried a basket of yellow baby mums.

Mrs. Holzgrebe, mother of the bride, wore moss green with luggage accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

A reception for ninety guests at the home of Mrs. B. Swanson, of Evanston, sister of the bridegroom. Fall flowers were used in the decorations.

The couple left on a wedding trip through Lower Michigan, the bride, for traveling, wearing an aqua suit with brown accessories. Sgt. Anderson will report at Miami, Fla., for assignment to a new post, and his bride will join him there.

Guests at Wedding

The bride is a graduate of Escanaba high school and of Evanston Hospital School of Nursing. Sgt. Anderson, who is a graduate of Evanston high school, is with the U. S. Army Air Force, and has been stationed in Alaska for the past 29 months.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. Harold Kreuscher and Mrs. C. S. Johnson, of Milwaukee, aunt and uncle of the bride, and their son, Ronnie, of Florence, Wis.; Mrs. Max Liedtke, of Escanaba, an aunt of the bride; Mrs. Mary Roddy, of Milwaukee, former resident of Escanaba; and Mrs. Nan Holzgrebe and son, Clarence, of Escanaba.

Today's Pattern

A frock with real originality is this one! It has a drindl skirt, popular with little girls, and a dicky idea that you can make either plain or frilled. This will be a pretty style in either wools or flannels for school; dressier fabrics will make the nicest of party frocks.

Pattern No. 8699 comes in sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 6 requires 2 1/2 yards of 39-inch material and 1/2 yard of contrast.

For this pattern, send 26 cents, in COINS, your name, address, size desired, and the PATTERN NUMBER to Escanaba Daily Press Today's Pattern Service, 350 South Wells Street, Chicago 7, Ill.

The new fall and winter issue of "FASHION" is now ready—32 pages. It's a complete guide to your fall and winter wardrobe. Send for your copy. Price 15 cents.

WAVE RECRUITER—According to Specialist Recruiter 3/c Mary Margaret Woody, who is stationed in Escanaba this week on an intensive recruiting drive for the WAVES, one of the most frequently asked questions is, "But what about our jobs after the war?"

Analysis would seem to show that service women will have an advantage over other girls as far as postwar jobs are concerned. Besides having certain advantages of experience and training, the girl in service will have the benefit of the new G. I. Bill of Rights, which includes job hunting, loans for schooling, out-of-job pay, and hospitalization. The guarantee of the old job back for the returned veteran holds for women as well as men, if they apply for their old job within 40 days.

Other provisions which the girl veteran will be eligible for are the government loan, the mustering out pay, national service life insurance, disability pay and hospitalization.

WAVE Woody is at 922 Ludington street, the WAVE office, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. each day, prepared to offer information about the Women's Reserve of the Navy. She will be here until Saturday and all women 20 to 36 are invited to consult her if they are interested in joining the WAVES. The WAVE headquarters telephone number is 666.

Worry Clinic

With Case Records Of
A Psychologist

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE D-258: Arlene W., aged 17, is a junior in high school. "So many of my classmates are quitting school either to get into military service of some sort or to take a job in a war plant," she protested.

"They are making high wages, too, so I should like to drop school and do the same thing. "My parents tell me not to do so, and we have argued so much, we have finally come to you to settle the debate."

Diagnosis

Always remember the Indians who sold out New York City and its surrounding territory for a few dime store beads and some firewater.

The glitter of the beads and the intoxicating taste of the liquor, caused them to deliver their future homes and hunting grounds to the invader.

Learn to look ahead. After this war, we should have a period of business prosperity, but the employers will be far more choosy in selecting workers.

"Put it on the payroll if the body is warm and still breathing." One of the tests for intelligence is your ability to look ahead and foresee future situations to which you must react.

When Arlene asks for a job a few years hence, one of the first things asked will be, "Did you graduate from high school? When and where?"

If Arlene says she did not graduate, then she will usually be told:

"We're sorry but only high school graduates are considered for jobs."

It will do no good as a rule to argue and try to prove that you know as much as many people with high school diplomas.

The personnel director or employment manager will not listen. And why should he?

If he has only 10 jobs open, and 100 people are applying for them, among whom 80 are high school graduates, then he will use the lack of a diploma as an automatic weeding out device to eliminate the 20 at the start and save him time in personal interviewing.

Don't Be An Esau

Esau sold out his birthright for a mess of pottage because the aroma of cooked vegetables blotted out his intelligent foresight.

If you quit high school now, you will seldom return and finish at a later date, for you will be much older then. You may thus feel embarrassed about going back among younger students. Besides, you will be out of the school atmosphere and find study more difficult.

A high school diploma in the next decade will be almost essential for any good job. Be sure you get yours now! Your parents are paying taxes so you will receive this education from the state, so get your money's worth.

Just remember how eagerly and hungrily Abraham Lincoln would have traded places with you in your modern classrooms

Former Costa Rica Girl
Among City's Newcomers

An attractive newcomer in Escanaba is Mrs. George H. Johnson, who arrived here with her husband for an extended stay at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Johnson, 516 South 17th street.

Mrs. Johnson's home is in Costa Rica. She met her husband while he was engaged in defense construction work in Panama and in Central America, and their marriage took place in the Canal Zone.

A graduate of the College for Girls in Costa Rica, where she received her Bachelor of Science degree, she speaks excellent English, marked by a very charming accent, and, of course, is fluent in her native tongue, Spanish. She is proud of her degree and more so of her record in basketball in which she excelled during her school years.

Coming to the United States to make her home is not too strange a happening in the life of the young Mrs. Johnson, whose maiden name was Rose Venegas, because she had planned to continue her studies in this country.

Her sister, Carmen Venegas, whom she laughingly describes as having black hair and dark eyes in contrast to her red hair and green eyes, is already established here, in the east, and a graduate of Boston Polytechnic Institute, is now on electrical engineer with General Electric in Schenectady, New York.

Mrs. Johnson likes the United States very much, although she is finding the climate of Escanaba a bit on the chilly side.

"My country is small," she said, "but it is very beautiful and the climate does not change. We have no seasons like you have here, but the temperature is always in the seventies, and everything grows very fast. That is, everything but apples," she added. "We have no apples in Costa Rica."

Baptist World
Relief Program
Is Accelerated

New York N. Y.—Due to the continued military successes both in Europe and in the east, Northern Baptists have decided to speed up their world relief and postwar reconstruction program with a financial goal of $10,000,000.

The World Emergency Forward Fund Committee, under the chairmanship of C. C. Tillinghast, principal of Horace Mann School, New York City, voted this week to increase the asking goal of the fund from $1,500,000 to "at least" $2,000,000 for this year.

This amount, which will be credited to the $10,000,000 postwar objective, will be used for emergency needs, church extension, and postwar advance and reconstruction.

The financial campaign will begin in 7,000 churches throughout the denomination on World Communion Sunday, October 1, and will come to a climax on the "Sunday of Sacrifice," December 3, when World Emergency Forward Fund contributions will be received in the local churches.

A "commissioner" organization, consisting of women, laymen and young people has been perfected for promotional purposes. The organization is set up on national, state, associational and local bases.

The emergency division of the fund will cover world relief, pension fund dues for chaplains, Christian ministry to men and women in service and defense areas, relief for overseas mission fields, unforeseen emergencies, and help for Baptist schools and colleges.

Church extension in new defense and suburban areas constitutes the second division.

Postwar reconstruction, covering relief and missions rehabilitation, evangelism, and other social, educational and missionary work at home and abroad, comprises the third major division.

The $10,000,000 project is over and above the regular missionary work of the denomination. Each local church will be asked to set a quota of two-thirds of its unified missionary budget for the World Emergency Forward Fund for the current fiscal year.

ARREST ENDS LOVE TANGLE

Serviceman's Wife And Army Corporal Get Jail Sentence

A 90-day jail sentence for the theft in Escanaba of a $25 war bond yesterday brought an end to the tangled wartime marital affairs of Mrs. Caroline DePompa Sniffin, 18, and her lover, Cpl. James P. Schoepfle, 25, who has been absent without leave from Camp Grant, Ill., for a month and a half.

Mrs. Sniffin's husband, Cpl. William Sniffin, is stationed in New Guinea.

Cpl. Schoepfle, who has been in the army since 1940 and says that he was a member of the first U. S. force that wrested control of New Guinea from the Japs, was sent home a year ago.

The two met at Camp Grant, where Mrs. Sniffin had gone to be with her husband before he was sent to the Pacific. She continued working there in the PX — the restaurant. It was there she met Cpl. Schoepfle and fell in love with him despite the fact that he has a wife and child whose whereabouts he does not know, although they are receiving dependency allotment from his pay.

Hitch-Hiked Here

"We just decided to clear out," Cpl. Schoepfle told Justice of the Peace Henry Ranguette yesterday in court.

They left Camp Grant, went to Rockford, Ill., stayed there for a few days and then started north hitch-hiking through Wisconsin. A week ago they registered at an Escanaba hotel as husband and wife.

Both sought work in Escanaba. He found a job but she was refused employment "because they wanted local girls," she said.

Yesterday both pleaded guilty in Justice Ranguette's court to a charge of stealing a $25 war bond which was issued to Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Prizge, who reside at the hotel.

Police Chief Michael Ettenhofer, who signed the complaint, said that Mrs. Sniffin tried to cash the bond at the Escanaba post office, but the clerk, who knew Mrs. Prizge, notified police. The bond was recovered.

"I took the bond," Cpl. Schoepfle told Justice Ranguette.

"I told him to take it," Mrs. Sniffin said quickly, "and I was the one who tried to cash it."

Notify Army Officers

Justice Ranguette held they were both equally guilty and sentenced them to 90 days in jail.

Chief Ettenhofer said that he would telegraph the provost marshal at Camp Grant of Cpl. Schoepfle's detention here. If he is returned to camp he will be released from jail here, of course.

Police questioning of Mrs. Sniffin proved that she had written her husband in New Guinea to tell him of her infatuation for Cpl. Schoepfle, and of her desire for a divorce. One of the letters she turned over to police was a reply from her husband, who agreed to the divorce and said their marriage had been "all a mistake." She was sixteen at the time of her marriage.

That Caroline may be released to return to her home in Camden, N. J., is probable. She asked permission to communicate with her father, and said that she expected he would send her money to go home.

"I didn't like Escanaba when I first saw it," she said wearily in court.

(This is the second of a series of three stories of how Americans are winning the war against a critical shortage of pulpwood. It is by the author of "Burning an Empire" who has been a logger and a forest fire fighter.)

BY STEWART HOLBROOK

Cloquet, Minn.—More than a score of lumberjacks blew into this historic old lumber town in the northern Minnesota forest one day recently, and took it over, entirely. These particular jacks did not kick in any windows. They didn't even enter a barroom. And the only noise they made was to swell the chorus of the local Rotary Club's singing of "God Bless America."

This batch of mackinawed lads are the youngest lumberjacks in all Minnesota, and for all I know in the United States. Their average age is slightly under sixteen years. They are prize winners, every one. Their abilities with ax and saw are possibly unique for their age. During their brief vacation from school last winter, and outside school hours since, they and their fellows have felled, saved and skidded, piled and finally hauled more than 2000 cords of fine pulpwood to the stockpiles of Cloquet's three mills.

Fight Snow and Cold

The unique campaign to keep the little round logs rolling in to Cloquet's hard-pressed mills began late last fall. Something had to be done. A shortage, not of trees but of men to cut them, was putting the mills on short rations. Then, T. Schantz-Hansen, director of the Cloquet Experimental Forest, and Henry Q. Nelson, of the county schools, put their heads together and came up with an idea.

Presently posters announcing a contest appeared throughout northern Minnesota asking for volunteers who would go into the woods after school hours and cut trees for pulpwood. On the very day the posters appeared every schoolroom turned into a bedroom. Kids ranging from eight to eighteen years let go whoops and yelled for an ax. Very soon every school in the region had a group of youngsters heading for the timber each afternoon. All those under fourteen had to be ruled out, although rumor has it that several thirteen-year-old loggers managed somehow to get into the fray. Many of the boys belonged to the Future Farmers of America, which may have to add "and Future Lumberjacks" to its title.

Well, the snow came down, as it does in Minnesota. It came down knee-high, belly-high shoulder-high. The youthful loggers, ax and saw in hand, plowed into the woods of aspen and birch. Into the dark woods of jackpine and balsam. During the brief winter days after school they whaled into the trees, laid them low on the glittering snow, sawed them, put them into neat piles.

The forest snapped and boomed from frost, but cold means nothing to these toughened youngsters except good sledding weather. They worked until dark each night, then hurried to their homes on nearby farms, while the northern lights danced high in the cloudless horizon, and fine, brittle snow came down to lay cake frosting on their toques and mackinaws.

Operate as Lumber Camp

During Christmas vacation, the boys devoted every working day to the job. Messrs. Schantz-Hansen and Nelson cruised the woods on an inspection trip of fifty miles and they were amazed to see the piles of little round logs building up high above the snow line. These kids were real lumberjacks.

The Future Farmers group at Cotton, a hamlet near here, operated in regular logging-camp style. They bought stumpage rights to a stand of jackpine and aspen. They set wages of all boys at 50 to 63 1/2 cents an hour. Some lads were picked as choppers, others worked as sawers, still others drove skidding teams, or piled. One student was made timekeeper, another scaler. This group paid out $1,025 in wages and stumpage costs. It produced and delivered to Cloquet's mills 123 cords of pulpwood. Other groups at Brookston, Moose Lake and neighboring towns were doing almost as well.

The contest closed in July, and one day recently the winners were brought to town and dined by the Rotary Club. First prize went to a Charlie Olesiak, who lives on a 160-acre farm near here. With a young friend paid to help him, Charlie cut and piled 30 cords before the snow became too deep for skidding. The check for Charlie's vacation came to $285; and this spring he added another $100 for more wood. He not only paid his helper, but Charlie hired his own father to truck his cut to the mills.

Charlie set up his own rules for logging and because they are so sensible they should be copied and posted in every pulpwood camp in the country; avoid destroying little trees. Fell trees with the wind. Cut diseased trees for firewood. Cut all trees close to the ground. Burn the slash (debris.)

Eagerly Await Frost

The second prize for total production went to young David Soderlund of Cotton. Young Van-High took a special prize for the most wood produced by an individual. Eighteen more boys received war-stamp prizes in varying amounts.

Now in late August the northern Minnesota nights are cool. Frost is in the air. And scores of youngsters are already whetting their axes and filing their saws, waiting and watching for signs of skidding weather. They vow that this winter's cut will be half again as big as last year.

This season the contest will place more emphasis on the way the work is done than on the amount of pulpwood cut. "Northern Minnesota," says Forester Schantz-Hansen, whose work in the Cloquet region is known the country over, "is wholly capable of supporting a large wood products consuming industry for all time to come. Wise forest management will accomplish a continuous crop of trees. These young future farmers and lumberjacks are also learning to be good foresters. They will help to keep Cloquet's stockpiles high this winter and they will also leave the forest in fine condition for future crops."

Power Cruiser Is Beached In Blow

The 40-foot cabin power cruiser "Elroy II" owned by Kenneth Cummings of Green Bay has been bought and salvaged by Leslie Devet of Fairport after the cruiser was beached Sept. 21 on the south side of Big Summer Island off Garden Peninsula point.

The cruiser was beached during a blow in which she was taking water so fast the pumps couldn't keep up. To keep the cruiser from sinking it was run aground.

Coast Guardsmen from the Plum Island station hauled it off and towed it to Fairport. The cruiser was slightly damaged, Devet reported.

News From Men In The Service

Technical Sgt. John A. Goodman from 295 S. 16th St., Escanaba, Mich., and his AAF B-26 Marauder group in the Mediterranean theater have been cited by General Charles DeGaulle and the provisional French government.

The citation was for outstanding achievement during April, May and June when Twelfth Air Force Marauders flew important missions over Italy, many of them in direct support of the French forces.

As President of the French government and chief of the French Army, General DeGaulle awarded the Croix de Guerre with palms to the group commander. The citation attributed the highly successful precision attacks in the face of enemy opposition to flight discipline, skill of combat crews, and superior technique of command.

Colonel Eugene B. Fletcher, the group commander from San Diego, Calif., said, "The success of our air crews during that three months period was a direct result of fine work, and hard work, by the maintenance and administrative section. As always, the ground personnel played a vital part in combat operations."

During this period when his group flew 2,000 sorties and dropped over 3,000 tons of bombs for a loss of only six planes, Sergeant Goodman served with his Marauder squadron as an engineer-gunner.

Recent graduate of the Kingman Army Air Field flexible gunnery school, situated a few miles outside of Kingman, Arizona, was 19 year old Pfc. Glenn P. LaChapell son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred LaChapell of 413 S. 12th St., Escanaba, Mich.

Pfc. LaChapell entered the Army at Camp Grant, Ill. on Aug. 2, 1943. He attended Escanaba High School.

As a student gunner at the Kingman school Pfc. LaChapell went through a ground school course in which he was taught the principles of ballistics, sighting, turret maintenance, range estimation and aircraft machine guns. Following a protracted course on the gunnery range, where he shot the .22 rifle, shot-gun and calibre .30 and .50 machine guns, he was given two weeks of air firing before being presented with his gunnery wings.

Kelly, Brown And Other Candidates Here Oct. 3

Governor Harry F. Kelly, Vernon J. Brown, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, and John D. Morrison, candidate for auditor general, will come to Escanaba Tuesday evening, October 3, on a campaign tour of the Upper Peninsula, it was announced yesterday by Art Goulaie, chairman of the Republican county committee.

Fred Bradley, congressman from the 11th district, Republican candidate for reelection, will join the group in Escanaba for the Tuesday program. Rep. Bradley is expected in Escanaba Friday and will spend the weekend here.

Michigan's chief executive and other Republican candidates will be guests of honor at a 6:30 o'clock dinner Tuesday evening at the Sherman hotel. Escanaba Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, Trades & Labor Council, and Escanaba city council.

Just returned from 35 months of foreign service, is on furlough visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pilon, Sr., of Bark River. He has been in the service 32 months and this is his first furlough.

At a special ceremony at the Fifth Army command post in commemoration of "Salerno Day," Lieutenant General Mark W. Clark, Fifth Army Commander, promoted Arvo N. Niemel of Grand Marais, Mich., from major to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

SCOUT COUNCIL MAKES PLANS

Plan To Enlarge Present Troops As Well As Start Cub Packs

Plans for the coming year were discussed Monday evening at a meeting of the local Boy Scout Council in the First National Bank building, S. N. Bradford, field executive of the Red Buck council illustrated to the eight men present various methods of mapping their year's program for the Scout troops to make them most interesting to the boys.

Also under discussion was the matter of increasing Scout membership in the three local troops as well as possibly organizing new groups and Cub Scout packs.

"We want to put the troops on a firm basis and then reach out for the other boys who may be interested in Scout work," Bradford said.

It was tentatively decided to have board of review meetings every month. After some discussion, the group concluded that the best procedure in putting on courts of honor would be to make them city wide in scope and not have them more than six weeks apart. They will be public and made more colorful in the future. Present at the meeting were: Lawrence Dreyfald, A. P. Hall, William Cook, Lowell Hebbard, John Hewitt, R. G. Hentschell, Rev. Harvey and William Stephens.

Malmberg Retrial Begun In Circuit Court Here

The second retrial of the case of Angela Malmberg, charged with embezzlement of funds from the Manistique Light and Power company, opened in circuit court here yesterday. Circuit Judge Herbert Rannels ordered the impaneling of 14 jurors as a precautionary measure against mistrial because of possible illness of any of the normal complement of 12 jurors. Two of the jurors will be relieved after the testimony is concluded and before the case is presented to the jury for decision.

The jurors were selected after the regular list of veniremen had been exhausted and 10 talesmen were selected by deputies. The jurors as finally established follow: Barney Nelson, Wallace Ward,

COUNCIL OKES COUNTING BOARD

3 Men To Be Appointed To Count Ballots In Ward 4

A resolution passed the city council at their meeting Monday evening to establish what will be known as a "counting board" to work in precinct four. This three member board will take over on the closing of the polls to do all the counting of ballots. The theory behind the procedure is that since there are so many voters registered in the fourth ward that matters would be facilitated if there was a fresh crew to do the tabulating.

The council accepted the school budget for the year 1944-45 amounting to $116,595. Of that amount, $32,244.86 will be raised by city taxes. The difference will come from state aid.

Charles D. Manson, city manager reported that the entire cost of the relief sewer across the city park from U. S. 2 and Jambus avenue was $632.25. Manson along with City Clerk Alex Robertson and any other public officials who are able to go were appointed to attend the regular monthly forum at the Escanaba city hall on September 29 where Mr. Owen, an engineer will give a talk that will be of interest to Manistique in its planning.

Other Schuster and Joseph Hierman appeared before the council to ask and receive $200 from the city toward the potato show.

Auditor Testifies

In opening statements to the jury, Prosecutor Wm. J. Sheahan declared that the defendant has confessed the defalcations and that the evidence unfolded by the testimony would prove her guilt. Defense Attorney R. W. Nebel, in reply, stated that the confessions of the defendant were made to protect the company's interests and that the shortages in the company's office were caused by inefficient and improper methods of bookkeeping.

The only witness heard in the opening day of the trial was Ernest F. Newman, of Minneapolis, an auditor, who checked the company's books in April, 1942.

Newman declared that he arrived at the Manistique Light and Power company office before noon the morning of April 26, 1942 and presented his credentials. He said that he went to lunch shortly after and that Mrs. Malmberg later met him in the restaurant and told Newman that he would not find the accounts of the Manistique Light and Power company in balance.

Questioned whether the accounts were short or not, Mrs. Malmberg said that they were about $1,000 short, Newman testified.

After auditing the books, Newman wrote a letter to the company outlining the discoveries of the alleged shortages, it was revealed at the trial. The letter was presented as material evidence in the case and contained an acknowledgment signed by Mrs. Malmberg that she was responsible for the deficit.

Only Jury Case

The Malmberg case is the only one scheduled for jury action at this term of court. Cases continued are: Harold Dixon, charged with statutory rape; Gregory Goudreau and Hugh Lambrant, charged with taking indecent liberties; Joseph High, non-support; Fred Beaver, non-support; Jacob Anthony and William Anthony, desertion.

Civil cases continued include Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railroad vs. Floyd Webb; Sherman Dewey vs. the Swanson Trucking company.

The case of Lee L. Gould vs. the City of Manistique was stricken from the docket, and the case of G. S. Johnson vs. the Swanson Trucking company is expected to be settled out of court.

American League Race Still Tied; Tigers And Browns Both Win

TROUT BLANKS ATHLETICS, 6-0

Wakefield Bounces His 12th Homer Off Flag Pole

BY FRANK KESSENER
Detroit, Sept. 26 (AP)—Paul (Dizzy) Trout, making his 27th victory of the season, blanked the Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 0, today, but St. Louis' 1 to 0 victory over Boston tonight kept the Browns apace the Tigers in the American league pennant race. The two nine are tied for the lead, each with 85 victories against 64 defeats.

The Tigers belted Luke Hamlin for 11 hits and all their runs in four innings. Dick Wakefield bouncing his 12th home run off the flag pole 439 feet out in center field and Rudy York hammering his 17th homer into the upper deck in left field with one on.

Trout, shutting out the Athletics for the fourth time this year, spaced six hits—four of them coming after two were out—and never was in serious trouble. Trout was starting his third game in seven days.

Carl Scheib, rookie righthander who relieved Hamlin in the fifth, blanked the Tigers on two hits the rest of the way. Jim Priddy, who reported yesterday from Milwaukee, replaced Frank Hayes to catch Scheib.

Six of Detroit's 13 hits went for extra bases, York driving in four runs with his homer and a single.

A crowd of 9,338 fans boosted Detroit's home attendance this year to $55,907 paid.

Hal Newhouser, winner of 27

game against nine defeats for the Tigers, was Manager Steve O'Neill's choice to oppose Bobo Newsum of the Athletics in their final game tomorrow. Frank (Stubby) Overmire, originally ticketed to pitch Wednesday, complained of a sore arm when he warmed up today and O'Neill said Newhouser would get the call.

Trout didn't have to work hard for the victory that pulled him even with Newhouser as the American league's biggest winner this year. Only one man reached first for the A's in the first three innings as the Tigers counted four times.

Wakefield's circuit smack came in the second with one away and Jim Outlaw and Bob Swift followed with singles. Joe Hoover sacrificed them to second and third but Trout popped out.

Eddie Mayo singled and Pinky Higgins doubled off Charley Metro's glove to put Tigers on second and third with one away in the third. York singled to center scoring both. Wakefield walked and Outlaw singled to center, scoring York. Hoover fouled out and Trout fanned.

New Record Set
Higgins singled to left after two were out in the fourth. York batting in the last two Detroit runs with his mighty homer.

Trout was in his worst jam in the fourth when Ford Garrison and Roberto Estalella singled successively to lead off the inning. Hayes bounced into a double play, the Tigers 17th this year, Garrison taking third. Roger Cramer took Dick Siebert's liner to center to end the inning.

Detroit's double play production of 174 constitutes a new club record for the Tigers, whose best previous season total of twin killings was 173 in 1927. Philadelphia 000 000 000—0 6 0 Detroit — 013 200 000—6 13 0 Hamlin, Scheib and Hayes, Priddy, Trout and Swift.

Senators Pummel 5 Indian Pitchers

Cleveland, Sept. 26 (AP)—The Washington Nationals enjoyed a field day at bat today as they walloped the Indians 8 to 5, reaching five Tribe pitchers for 15 safe blows. Every Senator chalked up at least one hit except pitcher Emil Leonard.

Stanley Spence touched off the fireworks in the initial frame by riddling a homer over the right field screen with two mates aboard. Mickey Rocco hit a four-bagger for Cleveland in the eighth.

Pitcher Joe Heving broke the American league's record for relief appearances when he took his 62nd turn in this role. Clint Brown set the former record of 61 relief assignments in 1939 with the White Sox.

Score by innings: Washington — 020 200 010—8 15 2 Cleveland — 000 000 210—3 8 1 Leonard and Ferrell; Smith, Boness, Calvert, Poat, Heving and Rosar.

The Trojans of St. Joseph were unable to fill Saturday's date in its hastily drawn schedule and will concentrate for the Kingsford game here the following Saturday, October 7.

Coach Phil Brazeau was pleased with the fine comeback of his Trojans against Peshtigo last Saturday, after trailing 12-0 for three quarters of the game, but he was not satisfied with the performance of the team defensively in the first half. More drills on tackling and charging are on the docket for the next 10 days, Brazeau indicated.

Victory Over Chicago, 9-5, Keeps New York In Running

Chicago, Sept. 26 (AP)—The New York Yankees stubbornly clung to their mathematical chance of winning the torrid American league race tonight by blasting a 9-5 triumph over the Chicago White Sox to stay within three games of the pace—setting Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Browns.

Score by innings: New York — 000 043 002—9 14 1 Chicago — 103 000 001—5 11 2 Zuber, Johnson and Garbark; Humphries, Ross, Wade, Maltzberger and Jordan.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Occasionally some unusual incident occurs in a football game that isn't foreseen in the rules and necessitates a decision by the officials based upon judgment alone, without benefit of precedent. Such an incident occurred in the St. Joseph-Peshtigo game here Sunday and established a set of circumstances that will be taken to the MHSAA for review.

It involved the timing of the third and fourth quarters of the game. An automatic timer, operated from the sidelines and not by the established game officials, visible to everyone at the game, was used as the official time of the game, as it is at all contests played at the Escanaba athletic field. The sideline operator, however, relaxed his vigilance as the third quarter drew to a close and failed to stop the game when the 12 minute period expired. The referee noticed the error a minute and 50 seconds later and ended the period.

The problem now was what to do about that minute and 50 seconds. Should it be subtracted from the fourth quarter in order to keep the game within the prescribed 48 minutes playing time? The game official ruled otherwise, contending that this would be unfair because of the wind factor. It would have resulted in one team having a wind advantage for 13 minutes and 50 seconds and the other team having the wind factor for only 10 minutes and 10 seconds. In other words, the timers' lapse would have been doubly costly to the team playing against the wind during the third quarter.

The situation was explained to the team captains and to the coaches. The officials' decision to play the fourth quarter the regulation 12 minutes was accepted without argument or protest. Peshtigo was leading 12-0 at the time and had the ball on St. Joseph's five yard line, first down. They failed to score that touchdown and later in the fourth quarter St. Joseph scored its first touchdown and kicked the goal, making the score 12-7. Peshtigo then protested the ruling to play the fourth quarter the full 12 minutes, contending that the game should end when 10 minutes and 10 seconds of the final quarter had been played.

Actually the rules code does not permit the shortening of quarters on an unequal basis. Acceptance of the belated Peshtigo claim would have been obviously contrary to the rules. True enough, the final two quarters were not of equal length but to have accomplished this, it would have been necessary to add a minute and 50 seconds to the fourth quarter, a condition that would have been even more unsatisfactory to Peshtigo and one which the officials hardly could legally defend. After all, two wrongs don't make a right and this is a fundamental axiom accepted by every athletic official worthy of the name.

NORWAY NEXT FOR ESKYMOS

Mistakes Of Iron Mountain Game Studied; Trojans Idle

The Eskymos will travel to Norway Saturday for their second game home from home game while the Trojans of St. Joseph, victorious in their opener with Peshtigo, are idle this week-end.

Coach George Ruwitch and the Eskymos spent some time Monday and yesterday in reflection on the Iron Mountain game, which the Eskymos lost, 7 to 6, in a heart breaker. The Escanaba lads had complete domination of the game for more than a half, but lost out in the fourth quarter when two quick passes scored for the Mountaineers. The point after touchdown proved the margin of victory.

Unmindful of Norway's startling 10-7 defeat by Iron River, the Eskymos are preparing for one of their toughest games with the Vikings this week. Norway has always proved tough for the Eskymos, particularly at Norway, where Escanaba's football success has been conspicuous by its absence.

The Vikings possess plenty of potential power, both offensively and defensively, is demonstrated by its game with Stambaugh, recognized as one of the peninsula's leading team this fall.

The Trojans of St. Joseph were unable to fill Saturday's date in its hastily drawn schedule and will concentrate for the Kingsford game here the following Saturday, October 7.

Coach Phil Brazeau was pleased with the fine comeback of his Trojans against Peshtigo last Saturday, after trailing 12-0 for three quarters of the game, but he was not satisfied with the performance of the team defensively in the first half. More drills on tackling and charging are on the docket for the next 10 days, Brazeau indicated.

ROOKIE TAKES MOUND BATTLE

St. Louis Takes Tenth In A Row To Stay At Top Of Flag Spurt

St. Louis, Sept. 26 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns battled their way back to a first place tie in the American league tonight by defeating the Boston Red Sox 1 to 0.

In one of the most spectacular pitcher's battles of the local season, Sigmund Jakucki, the 22-year old rookie from a Houston shipyard, bested Veteran Mike Ryba and posted the second Brownie shutout over Boston in two nights.

Jakucki allowed five hits, walked four and struck out four in winning his 12th game of the year against nine defeats. It was his fourth triumph of the season over the Sox.

Ryba allowed four hits, only one of them coming after the second inning. He struck out one and walked three.

The Browns scored the only run in the first inning on a pair of walks, a pop fly single by Mike Kreevich and a deep infield hit by Milt Byrnes that scored Chet Laabs, Laabs had previously forced Kreevich.

Boston threatened in the seventh and eighth but both rallies came with two out and the Sox were unable to push a runner across home plate. No Boston runner moved past first base until the seventh.

The defeat was the 10th in succession for Boston. It was the Browns' seventh consecutive victory.

Score by innings: St. Louis — 000 000 000—0 0 0 St. Louis — 100 000 000—1 4 1 Ryba and Partee; Jakucki and Hayworth.

Errors Top Homers And Giants Drop 2

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Five New York Giant errors were more potent than four home runs today as Cincinnati swept both ends of a double-header from the home club, 8-5 and 6-4.

Homers by Buddy Kerr, Johnny Rucker and Nap Reyes failed to turn the tide in the 8-5 opener in which Jim Konstanty was the winner over Johnny Allen although neither was there at the finish. McCormick drove in three of the Reds' runs with two hits, including a home run.

Bocce Is Very Popular Sport In Hermansville

Bocce, a game that combines some of the features of horseshoe pitching and bowling but actually resembles neither, is a popular recreational sport at Hermansville where it attracts a large number of participants, young and old.

Of Italian origin, bocce (pronounced bo-choe) has been a familiar pastime at Hermansville for many years. At one time bocce courts were numerous in the community but the courts gradually disappeared. Recently the game was revived in Hermansville and quickly caught all of its former popularity. It also has been a popular sport for many years in Iron Mountain, another Italian community, and a bocce league has been operating there for the past several seasons.

Two or More Players
Although relatively simple in its requirements for fundamental skills, bocce offers a definite challenge to its participants. The game can be played by novices and will return a full measure of fun, but it also provides an opportunity for its participants to develop a professional skill.

The game is played by two or more players, either in individual competition with each other, or in teams. The game is played with hardwood balls and the whole idea of the game is to toss one or two of the balls closest to a target ball.

In individual competition, each player throws two of the 4 1/2 or five inch hardwood balls at the

4 TEAMS DROP OUT OF RACE

Unbeaten, Untied Ranks In U. P. Football Thinning

The toll of casualties in the upper Peninsula football race last weekend erased four teams from the undefeated list, leaving only five unbeaten and untied teams in the peninsula after the third week of play.

Eliminated from the unbeaten ranks were Manistique, Houghton, Bessemer and Escanaba, all of whom dropped their games last Saturday. Still in contention are Ironwood, which played an outstate rival last weekend, Marquette, Ironwood and Iron Mountain, each with two victories and no defeats, Menominee with a single victory, and Stambaugh, with two victories and one tie.

The team standings follow:

Marquette	2	0	0	36	0
Ironwood	2	0	0	27	0

John Grant, 84, of 316 South Fifteenth street, a resident of Escanaba for 64 years, and one of the city's esteemed early pioneers, died at 12:20 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Francis hospital. He had been seriously ill only a week.

Mr. Grant, who worked for the city of Escanaba for many years, as water meter repairman, retiring in 1928, was born in Wester Bottens Lan, Sweden, May 27, 1860. He first came to Escanaba in 1880 and had lived here since that time.

He was a charter member of Bethany Lutheran church in which he was very active, serving for a number of years as an elder. He and Mrs. Grant celebrated their golden wedding anniversary November 14, 1938.

Surviving are his wife, four daughters, Mrs. Rudolph Ekblad (Alma) of Chicago; Mrs. George Goranson (Agnes) of Chicago; Mrs. Jess J. Tope (May) of Hubbard, Ohio; and Mrs. Walter Pearson (Alice) of this city; two sons, Alfred J., of Seattle, Wash.; and Arthur T. of Marquette; seven grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The body was taken to the Anderson funeral home where it will be in state this afternoon. Services will be held at the funeral home chapel at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon with Dr. C. Albert Lund officiating, and burial will be made in Lakeview cemetery.

PIONEER DIES—John Grant, who first came to Escanaba in the year 1880, died Tuesday morning following a brief illness. Mr. Grant who was 84 years old, had been in the service of the water department of the City of Escanaba for many years, retiring in 1928. (Selkirk Photo.)

Local Lions Attend Menominee Birthday

The Escanaba Lions club was represented at the tenth anniversary program of the Menominee Lions club held Tuesday evening. Attending the celebration were King Lion Harold Meiers, A. J. Goulais, Bruce Brackett, Roy Nerbonne, Merrill Larson and Mark Oslund.

District 10 officials of Lions International, and Ralph M. Sheehan, Marquette, International director, were guests and took part in the ceremonies.

The total annual tea exports from tea-producing countries are about $10,000,000 pounds.

Isabella

Isabella—The benefit card party given by the Catholic Ladies Guild was a big success. Prizes in 500 were high, Mrs. Gust Moberg; second Mrs. Jake Landis; Mrs. Jim Nepper won the traveling box and Mrs. Joe Gouin guest award. In smear Joe Gouin was high and John Turack of Nahma second. Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Turack, Mr. and Mrs. Vital Hebert, Mrs. Alice Johnson and Mrs. Arnold Turan all of Nahma. A delicious lunch was served later in the evening.

Mrs. Arvid Sundine Sr. will be hostess to the Congregational Aid today, Wednesday, Sept. 27th. Visitors are welcome.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. H. Nelson on Thursday, Sept. 28. Friends are invited. A rag rug sewing bee will be held.

Mrs. Ronald Johnson and son Kenneth of Alpena visited over the week end with relatives here. Chief Boatswain Roy Wester left Friday morning for California. He was accompanied to Escanaba, by his wife, his sister, Mrs. Pete Forslund, daughter Nancy and Mrs. George Beveridge.

Henry Landis and sister, Mrs. Emma Goodall were Escanaba business callers Saturday.
